Its blatantly obvious now that there is contingent of slobs who want us to go in guns blazing on their behalf so they can sit at home and jack off watching from their basement.

I'd be there if not for the fact I have 3 little toddlers to deal 24/7. I am tremendously grateful for all of you that are fighting for this country, and consider you as honorable as soldiers going to fight a foreign war. God bless The Patriots in D.C. and any of us that can't be there should be home praying for this Country, our President, and calling/emailing Politicians to fight the war in the information space, such as we do already.

Except it's not. NC is fucked up in that you are allowed to open carry and you are allowed to protest but cannot do both at the same time.

N.C.G.S. 14-277.2 https://www.ncleg.gov/EnactedLegislation/Statutes/HTML/BySection/Chapter_14/GS_14-277.2.html

I saw a video earlier this year of a Raleigh PD officer telling a guy open carrying at an event near the governor's mansion earlier this year that he had a right to open carry and had a right to take part in 1st amendment activities but he couldn't do both of them at the same time.

Unconstitutional as fuck, in my opinion, but its been law here for a long time and either hasn't been challenged or hasn't been challenged successfully.

FWIW - I think you're doing the right thing. I'm really torn as a massive 2A display would send an incredible message. That said, if you're the only dude on the block in battle rattle MPD SOD will take you out if you resist. If you don't resist, it'll cost you 50k worth of lawyer and a nice stint in DC jail.

As long as you can get back to your depot and rejoin the fight. Hopefully, none of this will be needed.

If we all brought fake, real looking guns then they wouldnt know who to arrest and would have to search every single person to find the real ones.

Shoot the leaders of Antifa first. They will be drooling soy milk from the mouth. They are easy to spot. The harder ones are the Glowfags. Those are headshots only. They are probably only sporting IIA level ballistic protection. So headshots or anything higher than a 40 cal will suffice. I will personally carry a 5.7mm tomorrow.

Weight reduces mobility, dexterity and endurance and as such should be worn sparingly and with the intent to sustain, better off running faster than the crowds otherwise.
